GUNS & GOLD

A 1960 ad touted the Colt Fourth Model Derringer as an "addition to your collection and a handgun that means business." Circulating when the first Colt Derringers debuted in 1870, the Type II Liberty Double Eagle is a collectible coin that means business. This historic coin was the first U.S. gold coin to bear the motto: "In God We Trust."

Minted from 1866-1876, the Type II Libs are the shortest production run in the series. An estimated 95% of them were melted down after the Gold Confiscation Act of 1933.

Almost uncirculated and uncirculated Type II Double Eagles are especially hard to find. In fact, Type II Liberty Double Eagles are so rare only 1 out of 1,000 collectors can hope to own even one of these exceptional, historic coins.
